

Anya Marinkovich

Anya Marinkovich is Counsel at the boutique law firm Gunter Arbitration in Geneva. She has acted as counsel, arbitrator and arbitral secretary in a number of international commercial arbitrations concerning construction, oil & gas, sales, and corporate and post-M&A disputes. She is admitted to the California Bar and has training and practical experience in both common and civil law systems, as well as in the field of public international law. She holds a Juris Doctorate from Santa Clara University with a specialization in international and comparative law, and an LL.M. from the University of Neuchâtel in Business and Tax Law. Prior to her work in international arbitration, she was assistant legal counsel at the UN International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia.